The Fox and the Stork

One day a Fox invited a Stork to dine, but when she arrived she found the delicious dinner of soup served on such a shallow plate that she could barely wet the tip of her bill.

So, a few days later, in return, she entertained the Fox at dinner, serving some finely-minced meat which she had put in the bottom of a jar with a very long neck. She could thrust her bill into this, but the Fox could get nothing but the drippings.

What suited the Stork was not necessarily suitable for the Fox. Thus it is with life insurance, where each person has his own particular needs. You will find that Sun Life of Canada's wide choice of modern policy plans can be tailored to your exact requirements.

Dear Grad:

Since February 1st, 1961 Mr. John Ferguson, our new Executive Director has been in office. This does not mean that your executive and board of directors can now take it easy. I personally believe that we will have to work much harder to fulfill all the plans that he has for us.

Some of our plans include a dinner to honour Dr. Hall, Professor Thompson and Dr. Roberts. Elsewhere in this issue an appeal is made to you to join us on the evening of May 12th to honour these men. COME, it will also give you a chance to meet your executive and also your new Board of Directors as we have decided to hold our annual meeting following the dinner.

Beginning next Fall and lasting through the Spring of 1962 our Association will be celebrating its 25th anniversary. One of the highlights of this celebration will be our Library Campaign, about which you have heard to be taking place this Fall. We are also planning our first reunion for the Spring of 1962.

From your response to our questionnaire, several members have suggested that we should set up several branch chapters. We hope to establish our first branches in Toronto, Ottawa and Hamilton in the late Spring. In the early Fall we will start on New York and Vancouver. If you live in these cities we will be contacting you to help us grow and expand.

If you have any ideas for your executive and board please feel free to contact us. I write to you four times a year. I would like to hear from you.

MEMO FROM MR. FERGUSON YEARBOOKS

In the files of the Alumni office, the only issues of the "Garnet" and other yearbooks of the University, and earlier, of the college, that are not available are those of 1959, 1955, 1949, 1947, 1944 and all prior to 1942. Any alumni who own copies of these issues, and who might be willing to part with same to complete our files, could contact the Alumni office; this would be greatly appreciated.

MR. B. W. ROBERTS

A tribute to Mr. B. W. Roberts. Reprinted from an editorial appearing in the Montreal Gazette on Tuesday, Jan. 7th, 1958.

MANY USEFUL YEARS AHEAD FOR HIM

Few men can look forward to the years of retirement with more active or useful interests than Mr. B. W. Roberts, OBE, DCL.

With the end of the old year he laid aside his duties as vice-president or purchases and stores for the Canadian Pacific Railway. No man has been more loyal to the spirit and traditions of the CPR. To that company he gave more than a half century of service. He was stationed in different parts of Canada, and he has often said how much he appreciated the opportunities of coming to know the country, and of sharing its regional life, that his work provided him.

In his many years in Montreal, Mr. Roberts entered actively into the life of this community. His special interests — the Boy Scouts and Sir George Williams College — have expressed his own wish to be helpful to those who are seeking to develop character in younger citizens on sound and dependable and worthwhile lines.

In the Boy Scouts Association of the Province of Quebec he has held the highest offices and received the highest honors.

It is in the same spirit that he has given so much of his time to Sir George Williams College, of which he is now chairman of the Board of Governors. Those who have seen Mr. Roberts presiding at the convocation ceremonies have recognized in him a man who is well aware that many of those receiving their degrees have not only completed the requirements of their academic courses, but, by graduation, have achieved a personal triumph over many adversities and carry their academic hoods as the badge of their courage.

Mr. Roberts has given generously of his time and his experience to those causes even during the years when he was serving his company with distinction. Now, in the years of his retirement, these interests await his even greater attention.

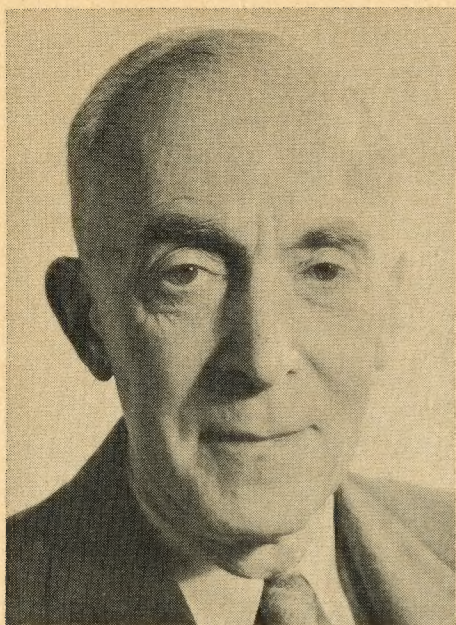

Not only will he serve them by wise counsel and informed judgment, but not the least value of his service will lie in the example of soundness, and efficiency, and encouraging sympathy which are at the heart of his own character, and are, at once, the explanation and the proof of the dependable helpfulness of his whole career.

NEW S.U.S. PRESIDENT NAMED

Daniel Coates, third year Arts student, was elected the new SUS president for 1961-62. After two days of voting, it was estimated that approximately 60% of the student body took part to elect their choices for the next year's government.

PROF. CLAUDE W. THOMPSON

Professor Claude Willett Thompson was born in 1888, and educated at Durham School and at Worcester College, Oxford. He received his B.A. in 1918, and his M.A. in 1927. Having moved to Canada in 1911, he formed his own advertising agency after several years in the field.

After teaching at Quebec High School and at Ashbury College, Ottawa, until 1932, Professor Thompson was appointed to the staff of Sir George Williams University in 1933, where he became Senior Professor in the Humanities Division in 1935. After being appointed Assistant Dean in 1952, he remained with the University until his retirement as Professor Emeritus in 1956.

Professor Thompson's other interests have been evident by his leadership in scouting as Scoutmaster and Assistant District Commissioner, and in literature, by his numerous books — poetry, fiction and of course, "Humanities in Action", familiar to all alumni who attended Humanities 101, as the course was called in pre-University days.

Professor Thompson was among the first group of full-time professors appointed to the College; he was member of the College's first Faculty Council, and was present at the first graduation ceremony. In a letter to the Alumni Office, Professor Thompson noted that these achievements, and "especially the Guinea Pig Award and membership in the Association of Alumni", are the ones he particularly values. He also notes that Mrs. Thompson and the Professor will be celebrating their Golden Wedding anniversary in May, 1961, during the month when he will be made an honorary life member of the Association at the May 12th banquet.

Professor and Mrs. Thompson now reside in Ormond Beach, Florida, and will visit family and friends in Montreal during the month of May.

ANNUAL AWARDS NIGHT

A large crowd gathered in Budge Hall of the Y.M.C.A. on Friday, of March 17th, the Annual Awards night of the Student Societies of the University. Among those present were Mr. Roberts, Chancellor of the University, Dr. H. Hall, Principal, as well as other senior members of the administration. The Association of Alumni was represented by President Gerald Miller. ## PEARSON GUESTS AT GRAD CLASS BANQUET

By Pruce Patterson, "The Georgian"

On Saturday, March 11, The Graduating Class of 1961 held an open meeting for all potential graduates.

The President of this 25th annual

Sir George Williams University Graduating Class, Mr. John Allen announced that the Hon. Lester B. Pearson had been contacted and had consented to be the guest speaker at the Graduation Banquet. As well, Postmaster General William Hamilton, has been invited.

Mr. Allen pointed out emphatically that "The speaker, Mr. Pearson, has been chosen in recognition of the fact that he is an outstanding Canadian orator, and not because of any political affiliations".

The Baccalaureate Service has been officially slated to take place in Birk's Hall on Sunday, May 21, 1961 at 3.30 p.m. The President also pointed out that Dean Rae will be the speaker at this non-denominational religious service.

There also followed a list of announcements relative to the Graduation Banquet and Ball to be held at the Queen Elizabeth Hotel on May 27th, 1961. It was announced that Stan Bankley's Orchestra has been hired for the Ball.

STUDENT AID

The number of scholarships, bursaries, prizes and loans available to students at the University, is not generally known to the students and so in some cases full use is not made of them. A list of scholarships and prizes available is placed in the Announcement, and students are advised of the existence of the Student Affairs and Guidance offices. Students who find themselves in need can find all necessary information on these subjects.

Applications for some of the scholarships and bursaries should be made early in the school year, while others are given whenever the student is in great need. Scholarships are generally awarded for outstanding scholastic attainment; while bursaries and loans are granted mainly in relation to the financial need of the student, though the student is expected to maintain satisfactory academic standing.

The following available among them is the Student Loan Fund.

The Association of Alumni Student Loan Fund grants financial assistance to students. These loans are based solely on the student's financial need. All loans are repayable within two years of graduating from or leaving the university, or if the student continues his studies elsewhere, upon graduating from or leaving that College or University to which he may transfer.

Upon graduating, Mr. Ayre went to McGill's postgraduate history department, where he is proceeding towards his M.A.

THREE GEORGIANS AWARDED W. WILSON FELLOWSHIPS

Eighty-four Canadian students, three from Sir George Williams University, representing twenty-two institutions of sity on the East coast to the Univer-ship Foundation, noted that the figure Woodrow Wilson Fellowships for the first year of graduate study.

The three Georgians receiving the Fellowships are Sacvan J. Bercovitch, (English), Brian E. O'Reilly (Mathematics), and Colin B. Atkinson (English).

Edward A. Colligan (Political Science) received Honorable Mention.

In announcing the 1961-62 award winners Sir Hugh Taylor, President of the Woodrow Wilson National Fellowship Foundation, noted that the figure reflected a substantial increase of 24 students, or 40 per cent over the 60 Canadians who received the Wilson Fellowships last year. The awards, valued at $1,500 with full tuition costs paid by the Foundation, are given annually to outstanding students in the humanities, social sciences, and natural sciences. Award winners may attend any qualified graduate school of their choice in Canada or the United States and are encouraged to use this experience as preparation for careers in college teaching.

FORD GRANT

Identification of future scholar-teachers to staff university faculties in Canada and the United States is the chief objective of the vast continent-wide talent search annually conducted by the Woodrow Wilson National Fellowship Foundation. The program is supported from a five-year grant of $24,500,000 made in 1957 by the Ford Foundation. Serving with Dr. Hans Rosenhaupt, National Director of the Woodrow Wilson Foundation, fifteen teams of regional faculty selection committees this year considered the qualifications of 10,453 outstanding students in both countries who were nominated by their professors for the Wilson awards. Of

PRISM REVIVED THIS YEAR

PRISM, the literary magazine of Sir George Williams University, was published again this month after an absence of three years. The magazine made its last appearance in the spring of 1958 under the editorship of Peter Krohn, and it folded after that mainly because of financial difficulties — something that has plagued PRISM since it first came out in March 1956.

This year the Alumnae Association made a grant of $100.00 to the Publications Commission in an effort to lessen the magazine's financial burden, and the editor, Ian Moore, informs us that our grant enabled PRISM to meet the printer's deadline, and ensured its appearance on March 14th.

The magazine, this year, was slightly larger than previous issues in both size and number of pages. Its contents included three short stories, a verse play, an excerpt from a novel still in draft form, one essay on the formation and construction of two poems, and twenty individual poems.

Realizing that the success of this year's edition will probably guarantee annual publication in the future, the PRISM Editorial Board had embarked on a publicity campaign that ranged from ads in The Georgian to posters in the university building, and recommendations to students from the English Department. The campaign also included a seven-minute spot on the Varsity Varieties radio program.

Copies are still available at two Montreal book shops. Seven Steps and Classic for $0.50.

— The First of a Series

JAMES ROBY KIDD

The Director of the Canadian Association for Adult Education has had twenty-five years' experience in adult education, recreation and group work, serving in Canada, the United States and abroad. Born in Saskatchewan, he grew up in British Columbia and has worked in five Canadian provinces. He has held professional positions in recreation, group work, camping, counseling as well as adult education, and has considerable experience in writing and editing, in films, radio and television, in university teaching and in public lecturing. He is married and has five children.

Dr. Kidd came to the Canadian Association for Adult Education in 1947 as Associate Director and Executive Secretary of the Joint Planning Commission, an organization that serves as a clearing house for over a hundred national organizations. In 1951 he succeeded Dr. E. A. Corbett as Director of the CAAE. During the years since 1947 the Association has grown in scope and responsibility. Dr. Kidd has been responsible for initiating the organization of the Canadian Film Awards and the Henry Marshall Tory Award in adult education and was first secretary of the Joint Planning Commission. He has conducted training institutes and workshops for business men, teachers, farm and labour organizations in every province in Canada, has been responsible for the national and regional conferences of the CAAE, as well as several international conferences.

Dr. Kidd took his undergraduate work in English and Psychology at Sir George Williams College in Montreal, completed an M.A. at McGill University and received his Doctor of Education degree from Teachers' College, Columbia University in 1947. His thesis at McGill University, "A Study of the Influence of Dr. H. M. Tory on Educational Policy in Canada" won special honours. He has given courses in adult education at Teachers' College, Columbia University, Ontario College of Education and the University of British Columbia.

As a secretary for the YMCA in Montreal, Ottawa and New York City, Dr. Kidd held major responsibilities for adult program and counseling. Pioneer work in the field of "day camping" led to his writing the first manual on this subject which achieved international distribution. While in Ottawa he served as editor of the Democratic Way and Community Organization pamphlets for the Canadian Citizenship Council.

As well as many articles, briefs and pamphlets, Dr. Kidd has written several books. Two of these have been published by Association Press in New York. Look Listen and Learn dealing with the mass media in adult education and How Adults Learn. The latter, published in 1959, is the first full account of all that has been discovered about learning for adults. His manuals on Film Utilization and group discussion have been widely distributed. Film Utilization has gone through four editions in two languages. He also edited a series of eleven booklets, The Learning for Living Series, published by the Fund for Adult Education and distributed in twenty countries. Two of his book-length studies of university adult education have been published: Adult Education in the Canadian University, a study carried on in collaboration with the National Conference of Canadian Universities, and Adult Education in the Caribbean, a study of the extra-mural work of the University College of the West Indies. He edited the standard work on Canadian adult education, published in 1950 and entitled Adult Education in Canada. He appears frequently on radio and television and has often served as a consultant for film and television productions.

Dr. Kidd is National President of the Canadian Library Week Council. He serves on the national board of many organizations such as the Canadian Film Institute, the United Nations Association, and Overseas Book Centre and the Canadian Conference on Education. He has been engaged as consultant to many organizations and governments in all parts of Canada.

SUCCESSFUL SEASON OF SPORTS IN REVIEW

By MEL KRONISH

(From the Georgian, March 14, 1961)

The year 1960-61 has proved a most successful season for championships.

SOCCER

Coach Finnie's soccermen won their league title, going through the season undefeated. Led by the brilliant scoring of Gerry Strachrowski and the excellent goalkeeping of George Patsios, who allowed only three shots to beat him, the soccer team enjoyed one of its finest years.

GOLF

Paced by Gordie LeRiche, the golf team placed fifth in the C.I.A.U. tournament at Kingston. The following week at the Seignory Club in Montebello Que. LeRiche won the individual low gross as the team captured the Ottawa-St. Lawrence championship.

TENNIS

The tennis team placed fourth in the conference tournament held in Ottawa. Next year, Coach Ken Thomson feels that if Sir George can develop a top flight player, their chances of winning will be greatly improved.

TRACK & FIELD

At St. Jean, Que., the track squad came in fifth as C.M.R. won the meet. With track ace Morty Freed unable to compete, the Georgian team scored mainly in the broad jump with W. Strain placing second while Downie finished third in the discus throw.

WATER POLO

After a poor start, the water polo team came back strongly and captured the league title. Mark Elieson, Roger Meldrum, Gary Brown and Lorne Jacobs gave Coach Jim McBride, a strong nucleus. Their four successive victories in league play earned Sir George their first conference championship.

SWIMMING

A rookie swimming team, competing for the first time in three years came second, in a field of five. Lorne Jacobs led the squad with three record-breaking victories. Gary Brown, Don Meisner, Bob Hamilton and Dave Annesely were key members in Sir George's surprisingly fine showing.

BASKETBALL

The Georgian basketball team enjoyed another successful season as they won the Ottawa-St. Lawrence Championship, remaining undefeated, plus winning the C.I.B.L. trophy, by beating McGill 50-45, in the deciding game of the best of five.

With Captain Willie Epstein, Bob Watson, Don Hurley providing the scoring punch and Sonny Gordon and Solly Apel playing excellently on defense. Coach Mag Flynn upped the club's record to 139-23.

The Jay-Vees, under Coach Al Hirsh, got off to a poor start but with three victories in a row ended the season with a five hundred average. Ron Otto and Ron Maddocks were two bright spots on the team.

Les Girls capped a very successful season last week by winning the league championship. Marge Johnson and Betty Alexander were the leading scorers while Fran Watson and Connie Nichols helped greatly on defence for Coach Maureen Ring's squad. Barbara Palaisy showed tremendous improvement during the season.

HOCKEY

The hockey team was a bit of a disappointment at times. The squad showed 'hot and cold' form all season. Of the new boys, Keith Conklin and Barry Armitage proved able goal getters while Harvey Wells showed well between the pipes.

The season ended on an optimistic note as the pucksters overwhelmed Loyola 12-4, thus giving hope for next year's squad.

SKIING

The Skiing team placed ninth in a field of eleven in an open Invitation meet at St. Lawrence University in Canton N.Y.

GEORGIANS GRAB BASKETBALL TITLE FROM BISHOPS

(From The Georgian, March 14, 1961)

By BARRY SPIGELMAN

Another basketball championship was added to the laurels of Sir George Williams University. On the strength of a 91-62 defeat of the Bishops College Gaiters last Friday night, the Georgians captured the Ottawa-St. Lawrence Conference Crown with a combined win of 150-109 in their two game total-point series.

Able players in the league, was the scoring star for his squad. Don hit on nine shots from the floor, which, coupled with two foul shots, gave him 20 points for the night. As usual, Hurley was a going concern all evening on the boards, as he pulled rebounds both offensively and defensively. Besides his offensive prowess Don fought like a demon when checking his opponent. Hurley could not have bowed out in a greater way.

Gordon and Lehrer, although not as spectacular as Hurley, played their hearts out in a brilliant example of defensive play. The two ball-hawks, known mainly as defensive specialists, showed to advantage, particularly in the early stages, when the game was still a game.

When an international adult education division was established within the World Confederation of Organizations of the Teaching Profession, Dr. Kidd was elected as the first chairman. He has been twice to the Caribbean as consultant to the University College of the West Indies, and has completed a one year-long study for the University College. ## PLANS FOR ALUMNI LIBRARY CAMPAIGN

A library committee has been appointed to plan a fund raising campaign, scheduled for the month of September, 1961. The campaign's proposed objective is set at $25,000, proceeds of which will be used to add to the Library's supply of books in the new quarters recently completed on the 6th floor. The committee is seeking the aid of alumni in the planning of the campaign publicity. Anyone with ideas for slogans, mailing appeals, telephone work, etc., is invited to contact Mr. John Ferguson at VI. 4-0131, local 134. This is the first project of its kind ever attempted by our association, so let us all pitch in and help make it a success.

THE CASE OF THE TROPHY CASE

The Association of Alumni has informed The Georgian that the delay in providing a Trophy Case is not their fault, since they have informed the University that they are ready to pay the bill as soon as the case is built.

It seems that the delay is due to indecision as to where the case is to be placed. Since there is considerable building activity around the University now, The Georgian can only hope that the trophy case will be there to greet the students next year. The Alumni has done its part.

TOWARDS A WORLD COMMUNITY

(Excerpts from an address given at the annual fall convocation in 1959. The speaker was Willson Woodside, Canadian commentator, whose words are reprinted here because of their timeliness in the light of the world situation.)

It is the almost irresistible temptation of a convocation speaker, facing a new generation about to go out into the world — although that scarcely applies at Sir George Williams fall convocation — to start out with “When I was a boy . . .”

That can be very tiresome. Nevertheless it seems to me that today it has become absolutely vital for us to pause every now and then to look back for a moment, to consider from whence we have come and the speed at which we are moving. When I studied surveying in my first year at U of T, it was called taking a backsight. You couldn't take a foresight and know where you were going, until you had taken a backsight.

Of course, to do this sort of thing you have to be able to read. There is the story of the Kentucky hill-billy who “could read figgers but not letters.” His predicament was that “he could tell how fur, but not where to.” There are a lot of us in the same fix these days.

The briefest glance in the rear vision mirror shows that we have come a long way, very fast. A recent writer in the New York Times Sunday Magazine reckoned that while it had taken man roughly half a million years to arrive at the Agricultural Revolution, and another 25,000 years to come to the Industrial Revolution, we had arrived at the space Revolution in barely 150 years after that.

The revolution I am concerned with is the political revolution. When I was a boy, before what we called The Great War, never dreaming there could be a greater — if that is the right word for wars — this was a world of empire. The maps were coloured red for the British Empire, yellow for the French, green for the German, and so on, for the Russian, the Austro-Hungarian, the Italian and the Turkish empires. I imagine they would look quite curious, and completely and finally out-of-date, to you now.

I can assure you, it was completely natural to us. How proud we were of those great red patches on the map. How I thrilled — or at least think I did — at the stories of how, when a British subject was molested in some far away port on the China Sea, a battleship would appear almost immediately to let the natives know that they couldn't do that to a Briton.

Nations acted in those days according to the only code that was known: the code of national egotism. Had the big powers, the European powers, not fallen out amongst themselves, this system might still persist today. But all the empires are gone, save only the Russian which calls its colonies People's Republics.

I don't know whether you've heard of the Russian who was sent on a mission to Estonia. He wrote his wife a postcard, concluding with "Long live the free and independent People's Republic of Estonia! Signed Ivan Petrovitch". Next he was sent to Hungary, and from there wrote "Long live the free and independent People's Republic of Hungary! Ivan Petrovitch". Then however, he was sent on a mission to Switzerland, and from here he wrote to his wife "Long live a free and independent Ivan Petrovitch!"

Paul Hoffman said in Toronto the other day that when the history of the mid-twentieth century came to be written, the greatest event wouldn't be found to be the Second World War, or man's probe into space, but the revolt of 1¾ billion underprivileged people in the world against continued acceptance of poverty, illiteracy and chronic ill-health.

This revolution has been called the Revolution of Self-Respect and Human Dignity — the revolution of people who want to govern themselves. It has been carried out, to a great extent, within the framework of the United Nations, and its Charter is the Universal Declaration of Human Rights.

I think that the historians, will find it extremely significant that this charter is Western in spirit, and hat the United Nations, which the new nations make a beeline to join, was formed and operated in the Western tradition. Let anyone who is prepared to concede the struggle to win men's minds to the Communists carefully consider this fact.

It is true that the new nations are tempted to adopt the Communist system, because of the means it provides of raising national capital out of the denial of the people — literally, out of their hides, as the Soviets raised it, and as the Chinese are doing. If the only alternative were to invite in private capital from the Western countries, the new nations might fear that they would lose some of the independence they had just won. But there is another alternative: aid from the various agencies of the United Nations — or the Colombo Plan, which we in the United Nations Association in Canada feel does just the same work. This aid can be accepted by a weak country without any fear for its independence, and it is preferable to Communism because it improves the People's standard of living almost immediately instead of depressing it. It is very heartening that many of the leaders of the newly independent nations of Asia and Africa are choosing the free way instead of the Communist, in spite of the great temptation of spectacular development under the latter.

I mentioned the influence of the Universal Declaration of Human Rights on their choice: their intelligentsia can see that in the Soviet Union and Communist China there are no free trade unions, that intellectuals like Boris Pasternak are often treated badly, and that the Soviets still maintain colonies, called satellites. the spiritual factor is too often ignored these days. But no doubt the material services which the many UN agencies are able to give the new members are extremely important.

These agencies are not only rendering material service, they are, I believe, leading the way in building a world community. And their work isn't nearly as well known as it might be — due perhaps, to the unfortunate attitude towards news which has grown up among our mass media. News is trouble, scandal, quarreling, accidents, violence. Because the UN agencies are working away quietly for peace, they are not news.

What the UN is, is a world conference going on all the time. It is the place where almost any government in the world can get in touch immediately with almost any other government in the world. Also, as King Hussein of Jordan said not long ago, "The UN is the Summit Conference of the small nations." A friend of mine who was recently visiting in Costa Rica was much impressed by the space given in the press to the United Nations. People told him, this is the only place where a representative of Costa Rica can speak, and have the whole world listen. If you say that it is "only a talk shop", why Mr. Churchill answered that: "Jaw-jaw is better than war-war."
